From the MD's Desk

Dear UD Trucks Family,

Like any other family, the transport industry has its ups and downs. At the moment, the larger South African economy is in a crisis and it has now started to impact the transport industry directly.

In our almost six decades of experience in the local transport industry, we know that transporters are resilient, resourceful and innovative. Like any other family, we want to assure you, our customers, that we are there for you.

Our regional dealer network is our feet on the ground and staff are ready to assist you. I would like to encourage you to talk with your dealer contact whenever you face a challenge. We are determined to go the extra mile, on steroids, especially in these challenging times.

Take care, we wish you every success in the month to come.
